

839 Collins Street, Docklands

Case Study

Ideally positioned at the end of Collins Street, overlooking the Yarra River, 839 Collins Street is the second Melbourne office for ANZ Bank, neighbouring its head office at 833 Collins Street.

Developed by Lendlease and designed by Denton Corker Marshall, the 20 storey building features an expansive ground floor lobby with an impressive frameless glass assembly supported by cantilevered glass fins and stainless steel spider fittings.

On two faces of this facade sit two 3600mm diameter record Diamond Series revolving doors with finished stainless steel cladding and 100 x 50 RHS sidewall mounted bollards for slow speed and emergency stop buttons.
